Books & BEYOND

JAN – FEB 2010 • MORTON GROVE PUBLIC LIBRARY • www.webrary.org

Bundle Up With a Book

Adult/Teen Winter Reading Program Continues Until Sun., Jan. 31

Let it snow! Stay inside, bundle up and dig into a good book. Read three books (or audiobooks) from MGPL, fill out a form for each book, and you will win a small prize. For every additional three books read, you will earn an entry in the grand prize drawing to be held Feb. 1. Go to the Reference Services Desk or sign up online at TimeToRead.webrary.org.

Many times the reading of a book has made the future of a person.

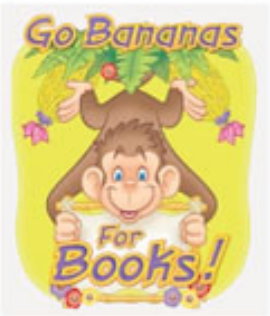
Go Bananas for Books

Winter Reading Program for Birth – Preschool, Jan. 11 – Mar. 7

Introduce your child to the world of reading by registering for our preschool program. For every week you visit the Library and tell us what exciting things you have been sharing, your young readers will earn a banana sticker and a raffle ticket for a stuffed monkey. There will be three bi-weekly raffle drawings and a final drawing for the grand prizes – a Pathfinder Wagon and Smart Art Folding Easel. Preregistration begins Jan. 4.



Read to Succeed. Read to Win!

Winter Reading Program Grades K-6, Jan. 11 – Mar. 7

Register for the Read to Succeed Winter Reading Program and visit us every week between January 11th and March 7th. Each visit earns you a raffle ticket for awesome prizes like an iPod Nano, a guitar, an American Girl doll, a new bike, or other cool stuff. Do mini book reviews for a chance to win Wolves merchandise weekly. Stop by the YS Desk to register or for more information. Preregistration begins Jan. 4.

Village on the Green

Looking for some fun this winter? Play the Morton Grove Public Library's Village on the Green miniature golf course! Golf holes will be featured at participating businesses and organizations throughout Morton Grove. This is a great opportunity to have fun and for Morton Grove residents to become more familiar with their local businesses and organizations.

The first and last golf holes will be set up at the Library, and each group of players will receive a map showing the location and business name of the other golf holes around the Village, along with the hours each hole is available for play. The map will also be available on the Library's web site, www.webrary.org.

Each group will receive a scorecard, on which they will attach a sticker after completing each hole. After returning to the Library for the last golf hole, each player will receive a raffle ticket and a button indicating that they completed the Library's Village on the Green golf course. You can play the course more than once to receive additional raffle tickets.

Watch for the Village on the Green miniature golf course to open early

Ben Schapiro: From the Director's Desk

In November of 2009, Leslie Streicher, a student at Northwestern's Medill School of Journalism, visited our Library and wrote a lively, engaging article about our Wee Read Lapsit program in the Youth Services Department. Leslie has graciously allowed us to print her article. I think you'll agree that it perfectly captures the fun and excitement of our children's programming.

Public Library Nurtures "Library Lovers," Secures Future

Red, blue, green and yellow pictures of Clifford the Big Red Dog and Strega Nona cover the walls of the cozy room.

Tiny children sit in parents' laps on a half-circle carpet.

Today, they're learning about animal noises.

Wee Read Lapsit at Morton Grove Public Library is designed for children up to 24 months old and their caretakers. At the six-year-old program, parents and an instructor encourage children to socialize and develop a love for books.

And this activity just may secure the library's future, its director, Benjamin Schapiro, said.

Morton Grove is a community in transition, according to Schapiro.

"The growing demographic is people with families," he said.

And to be a viable institution in the future, Schapiro said, the Library must reach out to kids and parents.

"We really need to capture the interest in reading early," he said. "It's not just for the child; it's to get the parent hooked as well, because the bond between a parent and child is a powerful thing."

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR EMPLOYMENT?

The Library has created a series of free workshops to assist you in every step of your job search. From setting up free e-mail accounts to creating résumés and applying for jobs online, you will learn the skills needed for effective job searching. See pages 10 and 11 for additional computer workshops.

Job Searching Online

Sat., Jan. 9, 10 am

These days it is likely the jobs you are searching for will be found online. This lecture-demo workshop will cover a number of valuable online job resources that can help you in your job search process. Learn tips to help conduct a successful job search using job searching sites, specialized search engines for jobs, as well as social networking sites like LinkedIn. Registration required.

Setting Up an E-mail Account for Job Searching

Tue., Jan. 12, 7 pm
Mon., Feb. 8, 10 am

E-mail is used as a point of contact in the application process. In this hands-on workshop, you will set up a free Gmail account (Google E-mail), learn how to compose and send messages, and manage your mail. Registration required.

Gmail Guidelines for Job Searching

Tue., Jan. 19, 7 pm
Mon., Feb. 15, 10 am

E-mail is an important form of communication with prospective employers. This hands-on workshop will cover etiquette for professional e-mail and show how to send an attachment. Registration required.

Building a Compelling Résumé

Thur., Jan. 14, 2 pm

In today's job market, your résumé must be a marketing tool that showcases your skills and experience. In this lecture-demo, Toby Nathan, a principal with a local recruiting firm will show you how to organize your information, quantify data, format your résumé, and utilize networking to maximize connections with employers. Registration required.

Job Search Workshops Registration

To find out prerequisites and to register, check the online calendar at calendar.webrary.org or call the Reference Desk at 847-929-5101. Registration begins two weeks prior to each class. Morton Grove residents have priority.

Formatting Résumés and Cover Letters Using Word 2007

Thur., Jan. 28, 7 pm
Tue., Feb. 23, 2 pm

Equally important to the content of your résumé is how it looks. In this hands-on workshop, you will use Microsoft Word 2007 templates to format and save sample résumés and cover letters, and learn basic computer skills needed for the online application process. An overview will be given of Library resources that can provide assistance in creating and proofing résumés and cover letters. Registration required.

Researching Companies for Your Job Search

Sat., Feb. 13, 10 am

Company information is valuable for creating effective cover letters and preparing for interviews. This lecture-demo workshop will showcase a number of electronic resources to which the Library subscribes, which can be used to gain knowledge about industries and companies. Registration required.

Setting Up and Using LinkedIn: An Online Social Networking Tool for Professionals

Wed., Feb. 24, 7 pm

Business professionals are using online social networks to connect with colleagues, look for career opportunities and research companies. In this hands-on workshop you will set up an account in LinkedIn, learn how to upload a résumé to your profile, connect with other professionals, and navigate the site. Registration required.

After-Hours Online Job Searching Workshop

Fri., Feb 26, 6 pm

We are keeping the Library open so you can put your job-hunting skills to use at a hands-on job searching workshop. Librarians will be available to assist you as you search and apply for jobs online. Attendees must have an active e-mail account and bring their résumés saved on a floppy disk or flash drive. Registration required.

The public library is more than a repository of books. It's a mysterious, wondrous place with the power to change lives.

Chicago Tribune literary editor Elizabeth Taylor

February Is Library Lovers Month

Send the Library a Valentine in celebration of Valentine's Day and Library Lovers Month. Beginning January 2, write your Valentine message about/to the Library on a paper heart or email your message to Valentines@webrary.org. The paper hearts will be posted in the Library.

Complete the FAFSA Form: Get Your Hands on Cash for College

Thurs., Feb. 4, 7 pm

Lacy Wood, Illinois Student Assistance Corps, will walk you through the process of completing the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) using a worksheet to make the online form faster. Intended for high school seniors, their parents, and adults planning to attend a post-secondary education program. Registration is required.

From the Director's Desk

Bella Almaleh is a stay-at-home mom who brings her son to Lapsit every Friday. She said it is important to expose her son to the library at an early age.

"I certainly want him to love to read," she said. "I want him to know what the Library is and what he can do here."

Ronnie Rund, the Library's Assistant Head of Youth Services and the Lapsit program's facilitator, said she introduces kids to the Library so they develop fond memories of the place.

"We are building 'library lovers' by getting them here to enjoy the Library," she said.

The Library is paying more attention to youth programming, but Schapiro said it isn't neglecting the senior population; it is just expanding its interest base.

"First and foremost, the [youth] programs are supposed to be fun," he said. "Parents and kids must enjoy it or there is no reason to do it."

Schapiro's philosophy seems to be working.

Circulation for Youth Services was up 6.9 percent in August 2009 from last year, as reported by the Library. The Lapsit program reported 400 different babies and toddlers in the first five years, and Rund said it's had at least 80 more since October 2008.

Lapsit is the first stage of hooking kids on the Library. Schapiro said he hopes programming for young children will teach kids how the library can grow with them.

"When they get to be teens, the Library should be seen as a continuum," he said. "I hope they can see how the Library can continue to aid them in the future."

Books & Beyond is published six times a year by the Morton Grove Public Library, 6140 Lincoln Ave., Morton Grove, IL 60053-2989. It is sent free of charge to all Morton Grove residents. If you would like to be added to the mailing list, but don't live in Morton Grove, leave your name and address at the Reference Services Desk or call 847-965-4220.

Special Assistance
In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), the Morton Grove Public Library promotes accessibility to Library services. Persons with disabilities who request assistance to participate in Library programs can make arrangements for special equipment or a sign language interpreter ten working days prior to the program by calling 847-965-4220 or emailing info@webrary.org.

Unattended Children Policy
MGPL is a public building; any public building may be potentially dangerous for a child who is left unattended. In order to ensure the safety of all of MGPL's patrons, children under the age of 8 must be accompanied at all times by a parent or responsible caregiver (high school age or older) while in the Library.

Changes and Cancellations
Classes, programs, and films are subject to change and may be cancelled due to unforeseen circumstances. Please call the Library at 847-929-5101 (for adult and teen programs) or 847-929-5102 (for children's programs) to confirm scheduled events.

2010 is just around the corner and you may be making New Year's resolutions to exercise more, eat healthier, go green, learn a new language or computer skills, create a family tree or master digital photography.

When you start making plans for your resolutions, don't forget your local library! MGPL has materials for all ages and in many formats, including electronic, to get you started and keep you going in the right direction. Books, DVDs, magazines and online resources are at your disposal! Books like these two will help you stay fit and healthy: The 90-Second Fitness Solution: The Most Time-Efficient Workout Ever for a Healthier, Stronger, Younger You, and Supermarket Survival Guide: The No-Diet Weight Loss Solution. There are many more books on this topic on our shelves; give us a call, and a reference librarian will be happy to put several aside for you.

If you decide to acquire new computer skills or brush up on your old ones, the Library has many resources for you: books, DVDs, computer lessons online and hands-on workshops at the library. Such books as Internet Simplified, PCs for Dummies or DVDs like Gmail for the Computer Shy will get you started. Perhaps you'd like to have an instructor to get you going? You are in luck – MGPL provides hands-on computer instruction on a variety of computer topics. Browse the calendar and register at catalog.webrary.org to attend a computer workshop at the library. If you prefer to take computer lessons online, log onto the LearningExpress Library at databases.webrary.org and take Microsoft Office, Windows or Mac courses in the comfort of your home.
